III. SITE DESCRIPTION & DISCUSSION OF HISTORIC SIGNIFICANCE

Historic Use of Property: single family dwelling & agriculture

Designation Sought (check one): ☒ Landmark ☐ Historic District

Year of Construction: ca. 1735, ca. 1850 & 1928

Original architect (if known): Teller & Halverson, restoration plan in 1928

Original builder (if known): unknown

Original and subsequent owners of the property, including dates of ownership (if known).
(Provide additional attachments if needed.)

SEE ATTACHED

Describe the architectural style of the property:

The stone section of the building was constructed in the 18th century during the Colonial Period. The wood frame section was built in the mid-19th-century in the Picturesque Italianate style

Describe primary building materials:

Foundation: stone

Roof: asphalt shingle

Walls: stone & wood

Other: n/a

How does the property in its present condition materially differ from the property as originally constructed? Describe material alterations or additions to the property subsequent to its original construction (include dates if known):

The original stone walls along with their fenestration patterns are essentially intact. A story-and-a-half wood frame house erected in ca. 1850 relegated the stone house to the role of a service wing.

Describe the present condition of the property: SEE ATTACHED

Describe site and surroundings (e.g., outbuildings, landscaping, neighborhood):

The house is situated on a large parcel that now functions as a golf course. It is set back from Huguenot Street on a lane leading through wetlands on the south side of the property. The stone house faces south and the wood frame addition faces east indicating that the driveway once was directed around this side of the house. A large paved parking lot is sited west of the house, leaving the house with a small yard distinguished by mature locust trees. The stone foundation of a barn is located north of the house. A wood frame structure has been built on it to house functions now associated with the golf course. The railroad, now a rail trail, runs along the east side of the property. The golf course was laid out on farmland with the general surroundings comprised of wetlands and woods.

Are there any presently known threats to the property? If yes, describe: none known

Is the property associated with any personages of historic significance? If yes, identify and explain: no

Describe the historic significance of the property (i.e., why it merits designation as a landmark or historic district). Indicate relevant sources of information. (Attach additional pages as needed to accommodate photographs, maps, and reference material along with screen/analysis from SHPO online resources)

With portions reputedly built as early as 1735, the Abraham Elting Bouwerie (Farm) is a significant example of 18th-century stone domestic architecture in the Town of New Paltz. One of only eighteen early stone houses surviving in the town, the Elting house represents an important artifact of New Paltz's formative era and cultural development. Stone houses are iconic in the history of the town and Ulster County, and they are important symbols of the Dutch heritage in the Hudson Valley. Unlike the more numerous and less permanent wood buildings built in the 18th century, stone houses have survived into the 21st century. Although generally revered as relics of a primitive past, they were the elite houses in their period and provide valuable evidence of architectural traditions, construction methods, material life.

The Elting House represents a small group of early stone houses that became the service wings for more commodious and stylish houses built in the 19th century, after stone houses had lost their social prestige. In this case, a story-and-a-half wood frame house with a symmetrical center-hall plan and center-entrance front façade and Picturesque decoration was built by a later generation of the family preserving the old house as a rear ell.

The New York State Historic Preservation Office has determined that 18th-century stone houses are individually eligible for the National Register and that the changes that have occurred in subsequent historical periods contribute to that significance. In the New Paltz context, all of the surviving stone houses in the town are worthy of local designation and protection.
